On Tuesday, August 10th, 2021, in-service was held in groups led by assessment committee members. Anita Chappuie remarked that overall, there were good discussions and various questions of engagement regarding Coaches and their similar strategies of teaching.

Larry Markiewicz posed the question on how to get assessment to be more than data and how to include diversity into it. Sarah Owen mentioned an example of using a statistic of how many books by people of color are checked out in a certain time frame. Another example that was mentioned was charting how many people of color are members of Phi Theta Kappa or have projects that affect people of color.

Marg Yaroslaski mentioned that during in-service, faculty and staff enthusiasm seemed to be high.

Sarah Owen brought up that co-curricular could be better regarding communication between departments. Larry Markiewicz mentioned that Athletics operational plans could be consolidated.

Overall, there seemed to be a positive overview for faculty sharing assessment reviews.

During the next meeting in September, there will need to be discussion of co-curricular because it's due in October.

Operational Plans:

Operational plans are due in October and it's agreed that there needs to be a big announcement in September to draw faculty and staff engagement.

Marg Yaroslaski mentioned that the committee needs to meet with departments to discuss and teach how to do operational planning, particularly with athletics. Marg, Larry, Sarah, and Anita agreed to do this.

Danielle Hayes volunteered to organize folders for necessary participants and to organize by semester.

Conclusion:
